

Diplodocus

I was minding my business playing outside
When my mother called to me.
She said the 'frigerator door was open wide,
And wanted me to come and see.

So I walked to the kitchen, and closed my eyes
Because I didn't want to see.
'Cause the situation took me by surprise,
I said it wasn't done by me.
I said . . .

Chorus:

Diplodocus, diplodocus, it was my diplodocus.
Don't you think it's odd that this is happening today?
Never trust a dinosaur to put their things away.
They're not very likely to obey.

Then I was minding my business playing outside
When my father called to me.
He said to drop what I was doing and come inside,
Yet another mess to clean.

So I walked to my room and closed my eyes
Because I didn't want to see.
If he only knew then he would realize
It's wrong to be blaming me.

Chorus

And if you're feeling bad because
Diplodocus never stops.
Then you should see the problems
With a pet triceratops.

Chorus
