

Welcome to the Big Parade

©2022 by Dr. Mac

I like parades with colorful clowns.
Big marching bands and hundreds of sounds.
I like the drums beating so loud,
And I like all the laughing with the crowd

As we listen to the clarinets, listen to the tubas,
Marching to music as it's played,
And welcome to the big parade.

Listen to the glockenspiel, listen to the trumpets,
Play the greatest music ever made,
And welcome to the big parade.

Every instrument's got a part, and a special role to play. When you roll them all together, they'll blow everybody away!

Listen to the saxophones, and listen to the flutes.
First they get louder, then they fade.
And welcome to the big, welcome to the big,
Welcome to the big parade.
