

Leaving It Up To You

©2024 by Dr. Mac

I'm leaving it up, I'm leaving it up, I'm leaving it up to you.

I see that you're older now.
There's lots of things you'd like to do.
So give it a shot, let's see what you got.
I'm leaving it up to you.

And life is like a hunk of clay,
That you can mold to something new.
So see what it's not, then give what you got.
'Cause I'm leaving it up to you.

It's up to you, to be yourself,
No matter what others do.
I'll trust in you, to be yourself,
And keep carrying through.

And life is like a candy bar,
And you can bite what you can chew.
As strange as it seems, your dreams come true.

I'm leaving it up to you.
I'm leaving it up to you.
I'm leaving it up to you.
I'm leaving it up to you.
I'm leaving it up to you.
